

IAC Acoustics, a Division of Sound Seal, Promotes Thomas Heins to National Sales Manager

NORTH AURORA. IL – March 26th, 2019

We are pleased to announce that Thomas Heins has been promoted to National Sales Manager. In his new role Thomas will be responsible for overseeing the Architectural and Industrial sales divisions of IAC Acoustics.

Heins has over 18 years of experience in the noise control industry, 15 of which have been spent with IAC Acoustics where he has contributed to both product sales and product installation. His most recent role was serving as the Architectural Business Unit Manager where he contributed greatly to growing the business, building influencer relationships and serving our valued customers.

“We are excited to promote Thomas to National Sales Manager”, said Michael Shahed, President of IAC Acoustics. “With his technical sales knowledge gained from his years of experience in product installation, along with his proven track record on the Architectural side of the business, I am confident that he will guide and support our collective sales team toward success and continued growth.”

Join us in congratulating Thomas on his new role with IAC Acoustics.
